

RELS-RELIGIOUS STUDIES

RELS 1113 Introduction to Religious Studies 3 Credit Hours

Facilitates understanding of human behaviors and products that are identified as religious. Includes critical engagements with ideas and practices of authority, transcendence, value, meaning, and collectivity. Provides strong foundation in culturally-grounded critical thinking, a nuanced understanding of how humans construct their worlds, and the ability to interrogate forms of power. (F, Sp, Su) [IV-WC].

RELS 1123 Introduction to World Religions 3 Credit Hours

An introduction to some of the world's major religious traditions, including study of their internal diversity and how they change over time. Close attention is also paid to the ways the categories of "religion" and "world religions" shape the way we understand one another and the world around us. (F) [IV-WDC].

RELS 1213 Judaism and Christianity in Conversation and Conflict 3 Credit Hours

This course introduces students to academic study of Judaism and Christianity, including their relationship to one another in antiquity and today. Our approach is comparative, historical, and analytical as we examine the development of these major religious traditions over time and the diversity both between and within them. (Irreg.) [IV-WC].

RELS 1313 Religious Controversies in the United States 3 Credit Hours

This course will examine religious controversies as an engaging way to learn about the history of religion in the United States. These controversies will allow us to think critically about the ways differing historical circumstances and changing social attitudes affect what we perceive as a "controversy," as well as what a socially acceptable "solution" is. (Irreg.) [IV-WC].

RELS 2133 History of Christian Traditions 3 Credit Hours

Explores Christian beliefs and practices from ancient origins to the present day. Examines key texts and observes how and why certain thinkers and events were crucial to the development of the Christian religious tradition, and how ideas and practices were contested (internally and externally) and adapted according to cultural context. (Sp) [IV-WC].

RELS 2303 Introduction to Islam 3 Credit Hours

An introduction to a selection of major Islamic beliefs, texts, stories, practices, rituals, ethical norms, institutions, and debates. History, concepts, and examples are presented with an eye toward interpreting writings by Muslim authors with a diversity of backgrounds and outlooks. (Irreg.) [IV-WDC].

RELS 2313 Religion and Black Popular Music 3 Credit Hours

Examines the relationship between black religions and black popular music in the U.S. Key areas of emphasis include the cultural, social, religious, political, and economic dimensions (the "context") of genres from spirituals to ragtime, blues, jazz, gospel, rock & roll, rhythm and blues, reggae, soul, disco, house, and hip hop. (Sp) [IV-AF].

RELS 2613 Pilgrims and Pilgrimage 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Sophomore standing or permission of instructor. This course examines pilgrimage as a common feature among distinct modern-day and historical religions and assesses the role of pilgrimage in shaping western civilization. The course investigates the motivations of ancient, medieval, and modern pilgrims; considers the appeal of commercial pilgrimage in the twenty-first century; and reflects on the distinction between pilgrimage and tourism. (Irreg.) [IV-WC].

RELS 2653 Approaches to the Study of Religion 3 Credit Hours

Examines ways religion may be studied in order to better understand it. The course will include theory and the methodologies of the social sciences and humanities. (Sp) [IV-WC].

RELS 2703 History of Buddhist Traditions 3 Credit Hours

An introductory study of Buddhist traditions focusing on sacred texts and core concepts. Examines the historical development of Buddhism in India, the formation of Theravada, Mahayana, and Vajrayana Buddhism, and local variations in Southeast Asia, East Asia, and the modern West. (Irreg.) [IV-WDC].

RELS 2713 History of Hindu Traditions 3 Credit Hours

Introduces students to the historical development of the many traditions that come under the umbrella of what we now call "Hinduism." Particular attention paid to the ways in which Hindu ways of being have been influenced by many factors in South Asian history, and have constantly been debated and in flux. (Irreg.) [IV-WDC].

RELS 2960 Directed Readings 1-3 Credit Hours

1 to 3 hours. Prerequisite: permission of instructor. May be repeated; maximum credit six hours. Consists of topics designated by the instructor in keeping with the student's major. Topics will cover materials not usually presented in the regular course offerings. (F, Sp, Su)

RELS 3103 Famous Bibles 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. The Bible is one of the most famous books ever produced and distributed. But it wasn't always a book, and it has never been singular. The Bible exists in material form as varied and multiple. This course explores the historical circumstances of the production of particular bibles through attention to famous, and infamous, Bibles in Jewish and Christian history. (Irreg.)

RELS 3153 Jesus Interpreted 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: junior standing or permission of instructor. Examines varied portrayals of Jesus of Nazareth in literature, scholarship, and film, ranging from ancient gospels to contemporary scholarly and cinematic portrayals. Primary texts include canonical and non-canonical gospels from antiquity, modern scholarly reconstructions of the historical Jesus, and contemporary Jesus films. (Irreg.) [IV-WC].

RELS 3173 Women and the Bible 3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. A study of biblical literature through narratives from the Bible featuring women. Using a variety of perspectives, including historical, literary, and ideological approaches, we consider what these texts tell us about sex, gender, masculinity, and femininity in the ancient world and also how these texts have been interpreted through time to shape attitudes about women, gender, and sexuality. (Irreg.) [IV-WC].

RELS 3193 Biblical Literature3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: junior standing or permission of instructor. Examines Biblical texts to observe the Bible as the scriptural background of both Judaism and Christianity; modern scholarship and current debates surrounding the composition, themes, content, and dating of Biblical texts; historical and geographic circumstances surrounding the composition of biblical texts; the Bible as cultural inscription, the various ways the Bible is read today, and its impact on modern culture. (Irreg.) [IV-WC].

RELS 3223 Religion and Nationalism in India3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: junior standing or permission of instructor. A study of how the major religions of India (Hinduism, Buddhism, Islam, Zoroastrianism, and Sikhism) change under various political regimes; a case study of how these religions transformed under British colonial rule and in nationalist and post-independence India, hardened religious boundaries, and the partition of India into two nation-states, and one (Pakistan) divided again (into Pakistan and Bangladesh). (Irreg.) [IV-WDC].

RELS 3233 Money, Power, and God(s): Religion and Economy East and West3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. An exploration of the intertwining of religious and economic modes of human life, particularly in Euro-American and South Asian contexts. The course disrupts the received categories of "religion" and "economy" to uncover the ways that humans think about what is valuable, good, and precious and how they seek to create a world in which each emerges. (Sp) [IV-WDC].

RELS 3323 Religion and Social Change3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. What is social change? What is religion? What is the relationship between religion and social change? This course examines how global movements have intersected with religious communities and practices in the 20th and 21st centuries in the hope of producing a world where all life, both human and non-human, can flourish. (Irreg.)

RELS 3353 Religion and Black Political Thought3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. Examines the relationship between black religions and black political thought in the U.S. Key areas of emphasis include the cultural, social, religious, political, and economic dimensions (the "context") informing the "decolonial turn" in black religious and political thought. (Irreg.)

RELS 3423 Gender, Sex, and the Body in the Christian Tradition3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: junior standing or permission of instructor. An overview of some topics where issues of gender and sexuality intersect with a particular religious tradition. Topics have to do with gender, sexuality, and religion, including purity and power, celibacy and virginity, marriage, reproductive rights, gender fluidity, and religious leadership and ordination. (F) [IV-WC].

RELS 3440 Mentored Research Experience3 Credit Hours

0 to 3 hours. Prerequisites: ENGL 1113 or equivalent, and permission of instructor. May be repeated; maximum credit 12 hours. For the inquisitive student to apply the scholarly processes of the discipline to a research or creative project under the mentorship of a faculty member. Student and instructor should complete an Undergraduate Research & Creative Projects (URCP) Mentoring Agreement and file it with the URCP office. Not for honors credit. (F, Sp, Su)

RELS 3533 The Qur'an3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. Intensive study of the Qur'an, its major themes, and literary forms, with attention to a range of classical and contemporary discourses about the Qur'an, emphasizing the great variety of ways in which Muslims and non-Muslims have analyzed and interpreted the Qur'an. (Irreg.) [IV-WDC].

RELS 3543 Islamic Law3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. A close reading and discussion of primary texts (scriptural, classical, and modern) and accounts of court cases, focused on one aspect of Islamic law such as equity, violence, authority, or gender. (Irreg.) [IV-WDC].

RELS 3563 Islamic Theology3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: junior standing or permission of instructor. A close reading and discussion of primary texts (the Qur'an creeds, classical theological arguments, and modern writings) on major theological problems such as salvation, God, revelation, and religious pluralism. (Irreg.) [IV-WDC].

RELS 3593 Hermeneutics: Approaches to Interpreting the Bible and the Qur'an3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. A historical and philosophical excursion through the landscape of hermeneutics—the theory of how to interpret texts, especially scriptures. We will explore how Christians, Muslims, and modern European philosophers have answered the question of where meaning comes from and how it should be discovered (or created), focusing on how to interpret the Bible and the Qur'an. (Sp)

RELS 3613 Roman Religion3 Credit Hours

(Crosslisted with HIST 3613) Prerequisite: junior standing or permission of instructor. The course examines religious practices and beliefs in the Roman world from the founding of the Roman Republic to Late Antiquity, including conceptions of the divine, ways of worshiping the gods, civic and private religion, conceptions of the afterlife, magic, the mystery religions and salvation, and philosophical religions, through a survey of literary and archaeological evidence. (Irreg.)

RELS 3623 Paul and Christian Origins3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: junior standing or permission of the instructor. Explores who Paul claimed to be within his own Jewish and then Greco-Roman first-century context. Explores the letter-writing medium, his view of law, the role of women, resurrection and afterlife, and his goals for the church. (Irreg.)

RELS 3733 Tibetan Buddhism3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: junior standing or permission of instructor. A survey of Tibetan Buddhism, sometimes referred to as "Vajrayana" or "Tantric Buddhism," considered in relation to the socio-cultural history of late Medieval India. Themes include monastic institutions, reincarnate lama traditions, death and dying, and contemporary political issues. A major theme will be the "image of Tibet"—the mythologization of Tibet, the Tibetan people, and their culture in foreign imagination. (Irreg.) [IV-WDC].

RELS 3743 History of Daoist Traditions3 Credit Hours

Prerequisite: junior standing or permission of instructor. Examines history, practices, and worldviews of the greater Daoist tradition as it developed and took shape over Chinese history focusing on the social and cultural forces that shaped its development, and the views, practices, and goals of specific Daoist schools. A study of the formation of Daoist identity and community, material culture, construction of sacred space, and self-cultivation techniques. (Irreg.) [IV-WDC].

- RELS 3763 Chinese Religions 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. This course introduces students to major religious traditions of China: Confucianism, Daoism, Buddhism, and popular religion. These religious traditions are considered in reference to the historical development of their respective worldviews, practices, and institutions as well as the manner in which they have mutually influenced each other over the course of that historical development. (Sp) [IV-WDC].
- RELS 3773 Altered States of Consciousness 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. Altered states of consciousness are conditions of subjectivity noticeably different from one's ordinary waking consciousness. They are common human experiences that are induced, experienced, and interpreted variously across cultures and religious traditions. This course introduces altered states of consciousness as an object of critical inquiry, considers different techniques for inducing them, and examines how they are incorporated into religious cultures. (Irreg.) [IV-WDC].
- RELS 3813 Animals, Art, and Religion 3 Credit Hours
Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. This interdisciplinary seminar analyzes recent work in animal studies that bridges religious studies, Black studies, Native American studies, feminist and queer theory, anthropology, performance studies, biology, and art history. We'll explore the significance of representational forms in shaping understandings of animality and religion across a variety of artistic practices, including film, theater, photography, poetry, sculpture, painting, and literature. (Irreg.)
- RELS 3823 Queer Religion 3 Credit Hours
(Crosslisted with WGS and LGBT 3823) Prerequisite: Junior standing or permission of instructor. This interdisciplinary seminar engages a range of methods and theoretical approaches to queer studies and religion. The course explores questions including: What is the relationship between queer life and religious life? Is religion ever queer? Is queerness ever religious? What do scholars mean when they label religion (or other objects of study) as queer or queer-able? (Irreg.) [IV-WC].
- RELS 3833 Archaeology of the Lands of the Bible 3 Credit Hours
(Crosslisted with HIST 3833) Prerequisite: junior standing. Examines the lands, cultures, and people associated with the Hebrew Bible and the New Testament through a chronological survey of archaeological evidence and investigates the relationship between archaeology and biblical texts.
